

Cat Bordhi's Restorative Year's End Knitting Retreat

on San Juan Island, WA, Oct. 28–Nov. 2, 2018

Because my fall knitting retreats fill so early I am opening one more, with a special focus dear to my heart, and I hope, to your heart as well. This new retreat is intended to be deeply restorative, with the goal of replenishing your inner resources for the year ahead.

I'll be teaching a handful of one-skein projects designed especially to engage you with a pattern rhythm that embeds itself in you like a lullabye, so that you mostly needn't look at instructions. And as usual, I'm always available for individual knitting consultations, delighted to help resolve problems, illuminate mysteries, or teach special techniques as individuals wish.

We'll spend some time each day knitting in communal silence, letting the deep wellspring of knitting recalibrate us and fill the room as our hands move in quiet harmony. As someone reflected after a period of silent knitting last year, "What a magical and grace-filled time we shared." If you have never experienced this, you may find it to be a nectar that increases in sweetness day by day.

Our archipelago is a nature-lover's paradise.

We have Orca whales, seals, foxes, abundant bird life, deer, and endless hiking trails. Friday Harbor, on San Juan Island, where I live, is about a two hour drive north of Seattle, followed by a little more than an hour on a ferry, which delivers you just a minute's stroll from our hotel. You can also take a float plane from Seattle to the marina beside our hotel, or fly from Seattle to our small international airport. Travel details are on page 4. Beware, you may never want to leave!

Some of the projects I will teach are old favorites; others are being designed just for this retreat.

Just outside our door you can visit shops, the Whale Museum, coffee houses, bookstores, art galleries, bakeries, and our local yarn shop, Island Wools. You can wander the docks and imagine life aboard the boats, sit on a bench in the adjacent waterside park, hike out to the University of Washington Marine Labs, knit alongside a new or old friend, or visit an alpaca farm. If you have a car (or rent one on the island) you can drive to South Beach to fly kites or collect agates, and may see foxes, rabbits, and eagles. We'll spend one afternoon riding the inter-island ferry (just steps from our hotel), gliding from island to island and enjoying the scenery while we knit.

Our waterfront home for the week is the sparkling Island Inn at 123 West, with a view of the marina, the Salish Sea, and for early risers, the sunrise over adjacent Brown Island. Our private gathering space is full of light, with a fireplace and picture windows. The Inn's luxurious beds will tempt you to take dreamy afternoon naps. Lodging choices range from single rooms (Euros) to suites (Sweets) to Penthouses suitable for as many as 5 or 6 friends. Please see the separate PDF, The Island Inn Room Guide for Cat's 2018 Retreats, for our special rates and full descriptions.

You'll arrive Sunday afternoon and depart Friday morning, giving us four complete days together. Afternoons are free to explore, take a nap, go for a hike, or simply knit peacefully with your new friends. We'll share group time from breakfast to lunch, and in the early evening after dinner. No activities are scheduled for Sunday or Friday, which are arrival and departure days.

I will teach you to knit a variety of fingerless mitts. Even the simplest are lovely and practical.

Our legendary chef Deb Nolan and her devoted staff prepare divine locally-sourced lunches and dinners. Lunch might be a richly flavored mushroom barley soup, green salad, fresh breads, excellent cheeses, and a lightly dressed chicken salad with dried cherries and roasted almonds. Dinner might be cedar plank salmon, roasted broccolini, cider-glazed root vegetables, wild rice pilaf, and creme bruleé.

Cost: The retreat fee is $500, and the catering fee for Deb's lunches and dinners is $220. The Inn provides a delicious breakfast with treats from Felicitations, a wonderful local baker (who my daughter worked for long ago!). The Inn's lodging choices run from $123 for a single to $312 for the largest shared penthouse. Every space is beautiful and serene. Please see the separate PDF, The Island Inn Room Guide for Cat's 2018 Retreats, for our special rates and full descriptions.

To register, email me at cat@catbordhi.com to ask if the retreat still has space, and we'll take it from there. Information about travel is on the next page, and the page after that is the registration form. I would love to welcome you to this special retreat, to share this beautiful island with you, and to help you fill yourself with peace and well-being as 2019 approaches.

Traveling to Friday Harbor, San Juan Island

Mount Baker looms into view as the ferry passes Lopez Island. The well-lit boats are great for knitting and jigsaw puzzles, usually with several puzzles waiting for the next traveler to sit down and continue. Or you can walk laps inside or outside. I love our ferries.

Washington State Ferries

Sailing schedule and car reservations for Anacortes-Friday Harbor ferry: <http://www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries>

Driving

If driving, remember that your ferry reservation is void if you are not through the ticket booth 30 minutes ahead of the scheduled sailing. It takes about 2 hours to drive directly from the airport to Anacortes, longer if there is traffic. For GPS, use 2100 Ferry Terminal Road, Anacortes. Once off the ferry, turn left, and look for the tall gray water tank with the numbers 123 on the side. We're right there.

Island Airporter

John Nash runs this shuttle between Friday Harbor and the Seattle-Tacoma Airport from Monday through Saturday. See www.islandairporter.com and call John at (360) 378-7438.

Bellair Charters Airporter Shuttle

This service offers 12 roundtrips daily between Seatac (Seattle-Tacoma Airport) and the Anacortes Ferry Terminal. Current schedules and rates are available at www.airporter.com/shuttle. Make sure to allow an hour between the scheduled arrival time of the shuttle and the ferry's departure, in case the shuttle runs into traffic.

Kenmore Air

KenmoreAir.com offers land and sea plane services. The sea planes land in the marina next to our hotel. Before making reservations, make sure to coordinate your arrival and departure from Seatac with Kenmore's schedule, allowing enough time to collect your baggage.

Deb describes her cuisine:

It brings me joy to prepare delicious, creative meals for Cat's retreats at the Island Inn. I feel my style of cooking is best described as a Mediterranean Diet, influenced by my life travels and experiences. The meals center around a colorful variety of seasonally fresh and locally grown produce, varied proteins (seafood, poultry, pork, and lamb), seasoned with fresh herbs and spices, beans and nuts, healthy grains, fresh breads, cheeses, olive oil, house made soups and salad dressings, and small decadent desserts. info@islandcooking.com
