

Island Weaving for Knitters Retreats

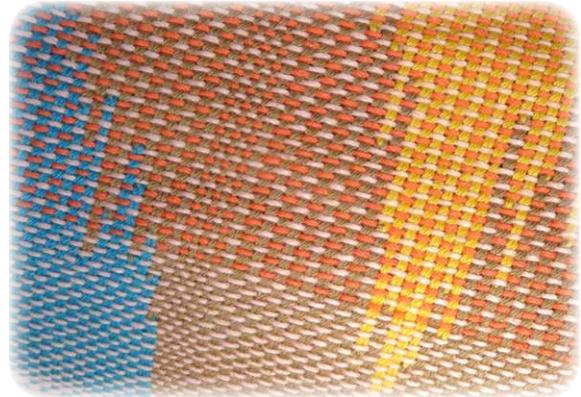

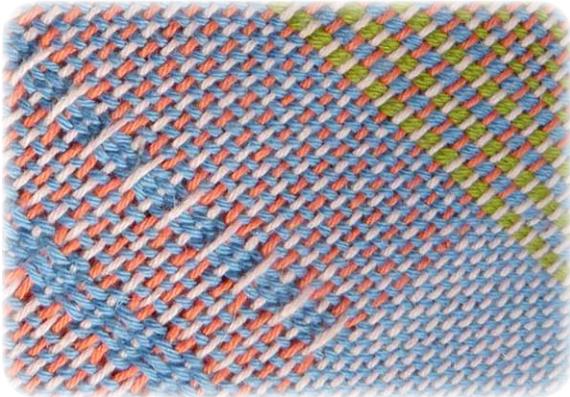

Introducing three new Cat Bordhi Island Retreats for 2017

Lakedale Resort at Three Lakes on San Juan Island, Washington

Choice of three 2017 dates: February 12-17, March 5-10, or March 12-17

One warp can give rise to so many variations your head will spin. In the spirit of Alice in Wonderland, I will encourage you again and again to inquire: "I wonder what would happen if I tried (fill in the blank)? These dishtowels were all woven on the same warp. It is ridiculously easy and oh so compelling.

Weaving, like knitting, floods one with that oh so familiar balm of well-being and recalibration. Similar to my Island Knitting Retreats, but limited to 16 people each, these new retreats invite you to escape to a beautiful Pacific Northwest island with amazing meals and my personalized instruction. A friendly 15-inch rigid heddle loom will be yours to use the entire retreat, and by lunchtime of the first day you will already be a weaver. As days go by, I'll share a treasure chest of simple tricks that produce intricate variations, as well as techniques for merging woven and knitted fabric. You'll go home with unique finished pieces to use or give away.

I'll also make my collection of weaving books, tools, intriguing gadgets, and larger looms available for your exploration, so you can identify your preferences. And if you fall in love, you can purchase a rigid heddle loom including all the basic accessories for less than $200 at our local Island Wools.

This throw has a sock yarn warp and a worsted weight merino weft, woven in a simple pick-up-stick texture. By the end of the retreat you'll have the skills to design your own.

Weaving and knitting are soulmates...see how they merge?

All those yarns in your stash for which you've never been able to find quite the right knitting pattern may suddenly find their true calling on the loom, because weaving thrives on combining variable quantities, textures, and weights of yarn. Happiness awaits you...

A throw of various weights of stash yarns with twisted fringe. Weaving around a Salish Sea stone lets you swatch the sett of your yarn, and can later be gifted as paper weights.

Three colorways of a cushy, Aran-weight wool joined to become a lively lap blanket. The knitted garter stitch borders merged with the fabric to allow identical braided fringes (braiding is a slow, delicious pleasure). By knitting the borders until I ran out of yarn, I was able to maximize the width.

Details about the retreat...

The San Juan Islands, where I have lived for nearly thirty years, are a nature-lover's paradise, about a 100 mile drive north of Seattle and an hour-and-a-half ferry ride west through shimmering emerald waters. Along the way you might see whales, dolphins, seals, or eagles. Participants fall in love with the beauty and peace, just as I did many years ago. Several of my returnees have even moved here, which makes me very happy. You will feel you have gotten away from the hustle and bustle of the world.

Each weaver will have a comfortable spot to sit with their loom in the Great Room.

You'll arrive Sunday afternoon and depart Friday morning, giving us four complete days together. Participants love the lakes and forest, our luxurious accommodations, our gathering space, and the lovingly prepared delicious, mostly locally-sourced meals, which are legendary among returnees.

I teach every morning and afternoons are free. After lunch I encourage you to explore the island. Participants love to spend an afternoon on our inter-island ferry, floating among islands and enjoying spectacular scenery and great natural light while knitting, weaving, and talking. Our local yarn shop, Island Wools, is right above the ferry lanes. On Monday afternoon Island Fibers from neighboring Lopez Island sets up shop in the lobby just for you. With afternoons wide open, you can nap, hike, go geocaching (over 100 caches are hidden here), visit our Whale Museum or art galleries, a wonderful local potter, browse the village shops, or row a boat (and knit or weave) on the lake. One year several participants even went swimming (brrr!). At South Beach you can fly kites or collect agates, and may see foxes, rabbits, and eagles. You can visit Mona, our friendly island camel, stop by Krystal Acres Alpaca Farm, or simply relax with new friends in the lodge. Each evening after our delicious dinner, I review our lessons, and then spin tales from the fiber world, which returnees fondly call "bedtime stories."

Our retreats are deeply relaxing and anchor a strong sense of community. We will spend a little time each day knitting or weaving in communal silence, letting the deep wellspring of tranquility that lies within our harmonious hands fill the room. Participants often comment that the retreat has been one of the best weeks of their life.

The retreat fee is $500, plus an equipment loan/ materials fee of $125. I will provide a plentiful supply of colorful worsted weight cotton yarn for learning and exploration, along with some natural colored wool. Your carefree learning experiments will become practical, beautiful dish towels, placemats, and napkins to use and give away, or can become bags, wallets, or felted slipper bottoms. You are welcome to bring promising yarns from your stash to work with as well.

A rabbits on the plain above our South Beach, where you can collect Salish Sea stones for weaving.

Lakedale Resort gives us special rates, not listed on their website (you must phone them during regular business hours). Lovely lodge rooms, with gas fireplaces, Jacuzzi tubs, and balconies or decks overlooking the lake are $139 per night. The very comfortable cabins with 2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, and a kitchen are $249 per night. Breakfast is included. Our catered lunches and dinners Monday through Thursday are $220 (spouses or friends may join us for meals if arranged ahead of time).

To register, email me at cat@catbordhi.com to ask if the retreat date you prefer has space. If the answer is yes, then I'll ask you to print and fill out the registration form on page 6 and send it to me along with your deposit to reserve your spot. The balance is due 3 months before your retreat begins. I sincerely hope to see you at one of our 2017 retreats, either these weaving retreats or my traditional knitting retreats, to share the beautiful island with you and enjoy getting to know you.

In the spirit of our beautiful, generous, and wise hands,

Cat

Current schedules and rates are available at www.airporter.com/shuttle. Make sure to allow at least 45 minutes between the scheduled arrival time of the shuttle and the ferry's departure, in case the shuttle runs into traffic.

For those who love to fly (and see beautiful sights!), Kenmore Air offers both land and sea plane services. Those traveling by land plane are shuttled between Seattle-Tacoma Airport and Boeing Field. Sea plane travelers are shuttled from Seattle-Tacoma Airport to Lake Union and land in the Friday Harbor Marina. Deb is an instinctive, creative, and gifted chef who cooks as passionately as we knit.

Her sumptuous meals have been delighting, inspiring, and nourishing our knitters for years. She is happy to design meals around the food preferences and allergies listed below (please check any that apply to you). If you require a more specialized diet, we ask that you reserve one of Lakedale's cabins, which have kitchens, so that you can prepare your own meals.

_____ I am a vegetarian.

_____ I am a vegan.

_____ I am allergic to gluten.

_____ I am allergic to dairy.

_____ I am allergic to shellfish.

_____ I am allergic to nuts.

Deb describes her cuisine:

It brings me a lot of joy to prepare delicious, creative meals for those attending retreats at Lakedale Resort. I feel my style of cooking is best described as a Mediterranean Diet, influenced by my life travels and experiences. The meals center around a variety of seasonally fresh and locally grown produce, beans and nuts, healthy grains, olive oil, varied proteins (seafood, poultry, pork, and lamb), seasoned with fresh herbs and spices, house made soups and salad dressings, and small decadent desserts.
